

S4-S6 SQA Exam Diet Update

Dear Parent / Carer of S4-S6 young people,

SQA Scenario 2 Update

I write to provide you an update on SQA and how this will impact your child for the upcoming exam diet. The Scottish Qualifications Authority made an announcement on 1st February 2022 providing an update that the 'Scenario 2' contingency has been invoked. Therefore, the clear intention is for SQA exams to take place from April to June 2022. There was a further update on 8th March 2022, detailing the publication of materials which are part of a wide-ranging package of support to ease pressure on your child following disruption to learning caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Study Support

It is my intention to confirm days and times with Principal Teachers to provide you with a detailed list of study support available to your child. For many departments this is an open-door policy during lunchtimes and after school. We are also looking into the organisation of Easter study school, which I will provide a further update on before the end of term.

SQA Parental Information Session – Wednesday 23rd March 2022

There will be a parental information session which will include the most up to date information from SQA in preparation for the 2022 exam diet. This will be held: Wednesday 23rd March from 17:30-18:00. You will find the link to this below. With mitigations in school easing, there will be assemblies held to inform your child of what is required of them and the protocols going forward.

The SQA and Scottish Government, continue to keep schools informed of developments and I assure you I will communicate with you if there are any changes that will impact your child.

At the heart of our planning, the health and wellbeing of all our young people remains a main priority. Thank you for your continued support. If you have any concerns, please contact your child's guidance teacher in the first instance.

Yours,

Mrs Hayley Ross

Acting Depute Head Teacher
